1 Function adjustment

1.1 As Shuchen did the usability testing for our prototype, the feedback is there is too much content on the result page of course. So Shuchen redesign the user experience for course recommendation page, and want to discuss with the client about the solution. We are wondering if the dependency part is necessary. We need to ask the client how the dependency is helping him.

2. Project developing update

2.1 During the past week, we completed the front end of the login page, set up the database and did the backend API. Keep our client up to date with our progress.
